THE ACCIDENT TOLL

The nation's accident toll in 1935 is estimated at 97,000 lives by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—about 4,000 less than in 1934 when the number of accidents/deaths reached an all time peak.

Motor vehicle accidents again claimed the lives of about 36,000, according to estimates of the statisticians, while occupational accidents caused approximately 16,000 deaths—about the same number as in 1934. Home fatalities in 1935 are estimated as having been less than in 1934. Public accidents, exclusive of motor vehicle accidents, were also fewer in 1935.

Several catastrophes in 1935 helped swell the accidental deaths. Among these were the Florida hurricane disaster, with 426 killed; the sinking of the S. S. Mohawk, 45 killed; the bus accidents at Rockville, Mo., and at Hopewell, Va., each of which claimed 14 victims, and the airplane crash near Cheyenne, in which 12 were killed.

"More dramatically than by cold figures, more dramatically even than by these catastrophes," the statisticians comment, "the seriousness of the accident problem has been brought home to the people through the tragic circumstances surrounding the deaths of an unusual number of prominent and well-loved citizens, including two United States Senators, the wife of a cabinet officer, the country's leading humorist and his famous aviator companion, and a well-known cartoonist."

BY THE WAY

In the last Presidential election 22,521,525 votes were cast for Roosevelt for President. According to Washington dispatches, 9,047,956 people are receiving checks from the United States government as salaries, wages, relief, pensions, farm benefits, etc. In other words, for every 5 people who voted for Roosevelt for President, 2 are now drawing some form of income from the United States Treasury, and the number is increasing daily.

Bonus Gives Freedom To Fred Prosser

When 346 members of the House of Representatives voted yesterday for immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus, they unwittingly were of much assistance to Fred Prosser, former city clerk of El Cerrito who has spent 44 days in the county jail because he failed to pay his former wife $213 in back alimony.

Yesterday afternoon Prosser was hailed before Superior Judge A. F. Bray in a surprise move and the former city official and the judge had a chat. As a result of this talk, Prosser—who is a World War veteran—agreed to sign over to his ex-wife his bonus for some $800, payable in bonds under the terms of the bonus bill passed by the House and Senate.

It was agreed then by attorneys for Prosser and his wife, that the $800 bonus would end all payments to Mrs. Prosser and that he would pay her no more money. The former clerk, however, had to promise to pay $26 a month for the support of his son.

Prosser was ordered released. He immediately disappeared before newspapermen could reach him.

Prosser was arrested on December 9 for contempt of court after he alleged failed to pay his wife back alimony. He disappeared from El Cerrito, only to be arrested in Los Angeles on teletype police bulletin.

Driver Is Fined. Given Jail Term

Pleading guilty to charges of drunken driving, H. L. Underwood, of Berkeley, was fined $50 and was given a suspended 90-day jail sentence when he appeared before Police Judge C. A. Odell yesterday. Underwood was arrested early yesterday morning on San Pablo avenue.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—UP—Whipped through Congress by crushing majorities, the compromise bill providing immediate payment of the $3,237,000,000 soldier bonus tonight reached the desk of President Roosevelt who is expected to veto it.

Congressional action on the measure was completed when the House voted 346 to 59 to accept the Senate substitute for the bill it passed two weeks ago. The Senate vote was 74 to 16.

EX-CONVICT IS ARRESTED; CONFESSES

FRESNO, (Thursday) Jan. 23.—UP—Liton Stone, 30-year-old former convict and one-time resident of the Fig Garden district in Fresno, tonight confessed the slaying of 14-year-old Mary Stammer, county authorities announced tonight.

Stone's arrest and confession was announced by Sheriff J. George Overholt and District Attorney Dan Conway, who have worked constantly on the case since the golden-haired high school girl was fatally wounded, beaten and partly disrobed in her parent's residence in the North Fresno suburb Sunday night, November 27.

TAKEN TO JAIL

Stone was taken immediately to an unannounced point for detention. Authorities, fearing mob violence, did not wish to risk holding him in the Fresno county jail.

Stone was arrested at North Forks, small mountain community of Madera county at the foot of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

WAS AT WORK

He had been employed there for some time as a garage mechanic, officers said.

He was taken without resistance by County Detective J. G. Mollier, Owen Kessel, investigator for the State bureau of criminal identification, Undersheriff C. A. Tarr and Deputy Sheriff John Ford.

PLANNED BATTLE

He reportedly told officers that he had "intended to shoot it out," but was reluctant to take any more lives when he saw that four men had arrived to arrest him.

His alleged confession failed to clear up motives for the crime entirely other than to reveal that he allegedly murdered Mary because of a grudge against her family.

Conway said he admitted that "if Stammer had been there it would have been him and if Mrs. Stammer had been there it would have been her."

Richmond To Get Publicity On Advantages

A concerted drive to attract industries to Richmond will be made through a mailing campaign to be launched by the Chamber of Commerce, according to decision reached yesterday by the board of directors on recommendation of the publicity committee.

At the suggestion of President P. M. Sanford this will be carried out by means of a series of letters, sent to a carefully chosen list of eastern industrialists and executives who, it is believed, have some intention of selecting a new western location in the near future.

LIST OF PROSPECTS

Fred D. Port will secure the list of prospects from several sources in San Francisco, and the publicity committee headed by W. T. Helms will prepare the letters and arrange for their release at stated intervals. President Sanford urged that the

G. O. P. Plans Lincoln Day Dinner Meet

MARTINEZ, Jan. 22.—A Lincoln Day dinner meeting will be held at Martinez at the Travelers Hotel on the evening of February 12th. This was decided at the meeting of the Republican County Central Committee held here this evening, at which every section of the county was represented.

The meeting will be sponsored by the Junior Republicans, the Republican Assembly and the County Central Committee.

Prominent speakers will be present and their topic will be "Lincoln and Americanism."

Plans were formulated at tonight's meeting that will insure representation at the dinner meeting of every town in the county.

These plans are now in the hands of Chairman J. A. Kasch of Cowell, and he will see that they are carried out.

Kasch, during tonight's session, told of the preliminary work that he has been doing for the past several months, and stated that after the Lincoln Day dinner, permanent organization work will immediately take place. He has received voluntary offers of support, that he says are most gratifying.

Police Seek Vandals After Car Is Ruined

Richmond police were asked last night to search for vandals who almost completely ruined a sedan owned by Mrs. Henrietta Pino, of 625 Macdonald avenue.

The woman told police that last night she and her husband attended a local theater. They parked their car at Eighth street and Nevins avenue, forgetting to lock the doors.

On their return to the machine, they discovered that someone had taken some sharp instrument and had matted the paint on the body and fenders. Not content with this damage, the vandals or vandals entered the car and slashed the upholstery with a sharp knife.

AL CAPONE IS REVEALED WELL HATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—Sullen rows of the Nation's most notorious and unmanageable criminals, one-time top men of the rackets, crouched in darkened cells on rocky Alcatraz Island tonight, fighting a "work or starve" ultimatum.

Warden James A. Johnston questioned one after another of the "strickers" hunting down ring leaders of a revolt of 100 inmates which broke out Monday, spread yesterday, and continued defiantly today.

NO SOUNDS HEARD

Ferry boat passengers who came within 500 yards of the grim island, where the federal government's sternest prison houses such men as Al Capone, George "Machine Gun" Kelley and Harvey Bailey, reported no sounds could be heard coming from the grey pile tonight.

At height of the revolt a dull bedlam of noise, pierced now and then by wild shrieks and shouted curses, could be heard aboard the ferry boats.

ON BREAD DIET

"Work or starve," ordered Warden Johnston as the men were herded into "solitary" and into their own cells.

Tonight most of the rebels were on meager bread and water rations. Some of the suspected ring leaders reportedly had been with-

Edward Proclaimed Ruler Of England

LONDON, Jan. 22.—UP—Edward VIII was proclaimed King-Emperor today, here and in all the outposts of empire where white, yellow and black men acknowledge him as sovereign.

Through the streets of London went the royal heralds, reading a proclamation saying King George V was dead and that Edward VIII had ascended the throne.

It was a pageant out of the Middle Ages—a bow to a time when there were no radios, telephones and telegraphs, and when men got news only by word of mouth.

When the last trumpet had sounded and the final cannon had roared, Edward VIII appeared in mourning on the balcony of St. James' palace and saluted his subjects, who stretched for acres across London.

IN CONFERENCE

Ma Kennedy In Divorce Plea

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—UP—Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy Hudson, mother of Alcee Simple McPherson, evangelist pastor, tonight filed suit for divorce against Guy Edward "Whittman" Hudson.

Mrs. Kennedy charged desertion. The couple were married at Las Vegas, Nev., September 19, 1931.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH READ are leaving Richmond for Los Angeles, where they will make their home.

Two Filipino Badly Cut In Concord Roy

MARTINEZ, Jan. 22.—Two Filipinos are in hospitals at Concord and Martinez and a third is being sought by the sheriff's office as a result of a cutting affray at Concord tonight.

The man who wielded the hatchet was Florencio Castillo, 23, about five feet five inches in height, and when last seen, immediately after the bloody row, was walking on the highway in the direction of Walnut Creek. The cause of the altercation and cutting could not be ascertained.

Both of the wounded men suffered cuts about the face and head. Lauro Laigo, 33, being treated at Concord, is the least injured of the two. Porfirio Estellero, at the Martinez hospital is in a serious condition, suffering from concussion of the brain, a fractured skull and loss of blood.

The row occurred at a Filipino camp on the B. H. Galt's ranch, about 4 miles north of Concord, where a party was being given in pruning trees. Laigo was the boss in charge of the crew.

Deputy Sheriffs Ralph Harris and Louis Rampoli are directly in the search for the axe-wielding fugitive.

Hard Luck Is Experienced By Richmond Man

Daniel Kelly, living at 877 Twenty-fourth street, Richmond, has discovered that hard luck comes in bunches.

On Tuesday Kelly was arrested on a petty theft charge as the result of a warrant sworn to by George Nelson, Kelly's neighbor, who said he saw Kelly steal a nightgown from his wife's closet.

Yesterday morning Kelly appeared before Justice of the Peace J. J. Moore. There good luck approached. Charges against him were dismissed and he was freed.

Returning home, Kelly found the door of his house open. He entered his house and had stolen goods found by the police. He was unable to place any value on the goods.

There was a bullet hole in the head. A rifle lay nearby. His wife, entered his house and had stolen goods found by the police. He was unable to place any value on the goods.

RECRUIT LIFTS
PHILLIES' HOPE
WITH SLUGGING

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—UP—The lowly Phillies, Quaker City's representatives in the National League are hoping jubilantly to produce another Babe Ruth.

It's possible, too, for their candidate has possibilities of climbing to the throne vacated by the Bambino.

He is Eugene Louis Corbett, young recruit obtained from Winnipeg, Canada, of the Northern League. Standing 6 feet 1 1/2 inches, Corbett weighs 190 pounds and carries sufficient power in his big shoulders to clout the ball out of any park.

But it is not his physical prowess alone on which the Phillies base their hopes. It is upon his last year's record, also.

STARTS BID FOR FAME. Corbett entered the portals of fame on a hot afternoon last August at Grand Forks, N. D. The opposing pitcher grooved one, Corbett, swinging lustily, connected with the ball and it zoomed over the fence.

This feat, however, was nothing for the records—it was just another home run. But Corbett got his "chance" a short while later. He came up again in the same inning, this time against another pitcher.

Apparently unafraid of Corbett's ability, the new hurler tossed one over the plate, but it never reached the catcher's glove. Corbett had connected for his second home run in the same inning.

That was the first time the trick had been turned in recognized professional leagues since William Reagan of the Boston Red Sox crashed through with a pair of four-baggers in 1928.

SCOUTS SEE POSSIBILITIES. Corbett is only 22, and Patey O'Rourke, Phillies scout, says he has the makings of a fine infielder. Hence, he has a few years in which to develop under the big top.

His two home runs in one inning do not make up his entire record in baseball. During 1935 he led the Northern League in home runs with 53 and in the same season drove in the most runs. Two years later he accomplished the same feat in leading the league in runs batted in.

In three seasons he led the league in fielding and each year batted over the 300 mark.

Corbett comes from a baseball-minded family. His father, Ted Corbett, was in professional baseball for 16 years, and his brother, Tom, plays with the St. Paul club of the American Association.

Italians Claim
Drive Success

ROME, (Thursday) Jan. 23.—UP—The tremendous Italian drive on the northern Ethiopian front is proceeding successfully and all first-day objectives were reached, dispatches from Masmara said.

Sturboan Ethiopian resistance was broken by bayonet charges and desperate hand-to-hand fighting and the Italian drive to engulf Tambien continued unchecked, dispatches said. The Italians recaptured two positions lost to Ethiopians in December when the blacks made a surprise attack.

Other bouts on the program are Doug Carver, Oakland (MCA) and 1935 Golden Glove champion, vs. Joe Gomez of Elmhurst, 175 pounds. Harvey Simpson of Oakland vs. Matcho Manzoia of San Francisco, 135 pounds.

Pete Homick of Richmond vs. Manuel Homeney of Hayward, 145 pounds.

Carl Barbieri of Martinez vs. Paul Smith of the Petaluma Spartans, 135 pounds.

MEET TEST IN CERRITO BOUT

"King" Ellison, the chocolate-colored Richmond heavyweight will face the acid test in the ring at El Cerrito's Madison Square Garden Thursday night when he meets "Fing" Cervelli of the University of San Francisco in the main event.

That is the opinion of Matchmaker Mike Dolan who declared this week he is having trouble finding opponents for the "brown bomber" who throws so much leather in such a short time that most of those who have faced him have found themselves on the floor before they could get organized in a fighting pose.

Last week Al Nyquist of San Francisco, hearing of Ellison's two one-round knockouts over formidable opponents, declined to enter the ring against the South Richmond heavy. This week, however, Dolan has arranged to bring in Cervelli, U. S. F. football player, who will enter the ring at 245 pounds as compared with Ellison's 190 pounds.

In the semi-main event Jimmy Dugan of El Cerrito, who stood boxing fans' hair on end last week in a toe-to-toe punch trading affair with Jack Despatch of Redwood City, will tangle with "Newsboy" Joe Gavras of San Francisco.

Other bouts on the program are Doug Carver, Oakland (MCA) and 1935 Golden Glove champion, vs. Joe Gomez of Elmhurst, 175 pounds. Harvey Simpson of Oakland vs. Matcho Manzoia of San Francisco, 135 pounds.

Inferior Wine
To Be Seized
By State Board

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—Director Walter M. Dickey of the California State Board of Health today ordered inspectors to seize any California wines which do not conform to State standards, regarding conformity to Federal regulations.

At the same time, Dickey informed the wine industry that new, more exacting standards set forth by the Federal alcohol administration are "not high enough."

Dickey told the board of directors of the Wine Institute, meeting in San Francisco today, that the State health board had studied the Federal regulations and decided to maintain higher standards in California.

The institute delegates, representing 85 percent of American wine production, approved the State board's stand and promised "wholehearted support" to State inspectors.

Merriam Will Claim Bride Within Week

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—UP—The marriage of Governor Frank F. Merriam and Mrs. Jessie Stewart Lipsey of Long Beach will take place "probably within a week," Merriam said today upon his return from Southern California.

He said no date had been set but that he would obtain his license Saturday and that "either Saturday or Monday would be all right." He added he did not believe in Sunday weddings.

The governor said he and his fiancée planned a quiet wedding with only a few friends present. Afterward, he said, they will occupy the governor's mansion in Sacramento.

The mansion has been unoccupied since the death of the late Governor James Rolph, Jr. Merriam has lived at a hotel near the capitol, but recently had the mansion redecorated and furnished.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 22.—UP—The reign of the notorious Hyslop gang over the underworld of Western Canada ended tonight with the shooting of Jack Hyslop, its 23-year-old leader, and George Lawson, 22, in a shabby room of the Oak hotel in Vancouver's east end.

Police, who surrounded the ramshackle building, armed with shotguns and gas bombs, said Lawson apparently shot Hyslop behind the ear with an automatic pistol, when he saw escape was hopeless, then sent a bullet crashing through his own temple.

Lawson died instantly. Hyslop was still alive when an ambulance rushed him to an emergency hospital. Physicians said he had no chance to recover.

Bare Facts To

In Girls' Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—When Jean Dupree and Grace Carlos started taking off their clothes on the stage of the Liberty theater here one night they didn't expect to have to repeat the performance in a courtroom with a judge and jury for an audience.

But it's their own attorney's idea as the best way to convince everyone that the girls' act was not indecent, as alleged by police officers who raided the North Beach theater. Attorney Herman D. Gill will plead his case on the bare facts in Judge Twain Mitchellson's court, by having the two comely defendants dance the dance and take off the clothes as they did on the theater stage.

"I shall try in a nice dignified way to present the facts as they existed at the time of the show," said Lawyer Gill.

The annulment was asked by the girl's mother, Mrs. Della Moravia. Attorney Francis W. Collins was counsel for the plaintiff.

SIX SEIZED AS BOOKMAKERS BY DEPUTIES

OAKLAND, Jan. 22.—An alleged bookmaking establishment in Emeryville, described by authorities as the largest horse race gambling place in the Eastbay, was raided today by a squad of deputy sheriffs who trapped 100 men patrons in the place and arrested six asserted operators.

The raiders crashed through barred doors with axes and followed a labyrinth of corridors to reach a large room, where they said they found form charts and other paraphernalia. Results from four race tracks, three in the East, were being received the officers said.

Harry C. Tibbets, described as the principal owner, nearly evaded arrest, the raiders said, by fleeing through a trap door allegedly provided as a special escape. He dropped through the trap door into the arms of Deputy Sheriff L. E. Van Patten, the officers said.

The place is on the second floor of a building at 4099 San Pablo avenue.

Tibbets and five alleged employees were taken to the county jail, while officers held the patrons in the place, taking their names and addresses.

An ironic aspect of the raid was the fact that racing results continued to come over a loudspeaker system into the room long after the alleged operators had been taken to jail, and while the raiders were collecting the paraphernalia. Cash totaling $150 also was seized, according to Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch, who led the raiders.

Asserted employees arrested were C. Amman, 2336 Grove street, Chas. Earle, 1039 45th street; C. Connely, 812 Broadway; A. Stokes, 3241 Hollis street and Phil Harris, 1058 43rd Street.

Patterson, key defendant in the case which in five years, has risen to international prominence, saw his fate placed in the hands of a jury after prosecutors had demanded a death sentence for the "protection of Alabama womanhood."

Patterson, who for five years has lived in the shadow of the electric chair is the first of the nine "Scottsboro boys" to be brought to trial since the Supreme Court overturned previous death sentences.

DEATH LIST GROWING IN SUDDEN GALE

By UNITED PRESS
Winter's full fury struck the vast territory between the Rocky Mountains and the Alleghenies, Wednesday, with more than a score reported dead from the severest cold wave of the 20th century.

The Northwest, as usual, bore the full brunt of frigid blasts swirling down from the Canadian Rockies. An official thermometer on the bridge into Canada at International Falls, Minn., registered 55 below zero, coldest in the nation.

COLDEST WEATHER

In the Midwest, several Wisconsin cities recorded temperatures 32 below zero, and Chicago, with 16 below late in the day, looked for its coldest weather since Christmas Eve of 1872, when the mercury plummeted to 23 below.

Schools closed in several Indiana cities, high winds drifted snow in Illinois so that roads into Chicago became impassable, many froze to death, were killed in falls on slippery streets or perished in automobile accidents caused by skidding and blinding snow.

COLD WAVE SPREADS

The wind blew a half gale in parts of Iowa as the cold wave spread rapidly over the Plains States and southeast toward Dixie.

Forecasters, stunned by the suddenness with which the cold wave descended on the nation and caught them unawares, predicted relief was in sight but would not arrive before late Thursday.

Railroad trains arriving in Chicago from the Northwest were as much as an hour late. Heavy snows which fell during the night in the Central West hampered motorists. Hotels were crowded with persons who decided not to return to outlying homes until the cold abated.

Frozen automobiles were abandoned and commuters jammed trains, the elevated and street cars. Extra locomotives were used on trains coming through the Northwest. Air lines operated as usual.

SURGE DEATH

Sudden death came to many. Six died in Chicago and vicinity from heart and lung attacks of pneumonia. Another plunged to death trying to cross a frozen creek. Kerosene stoves in homes caused four deaths. Six in Wisconsin and another froze to death on a through-train. His body run over repeatedly by motorists unaware of it in drifting snow. Indiana reported two deaths. One person died at East St. Louis Ill.

Relief authorities had their hands full caring for the indigent. In Cook county, Illinois, seven relief shelters were crowded with 2000 homeless. Hospitals were busy treating exposure cases.

22 INJURED

A 10-ton truck crashed into a street car on Chicago's south side, derailing it and injuring 22 passengers, during the morning rush hour. Intense cold hampered repair work and the line was closed for an hour.

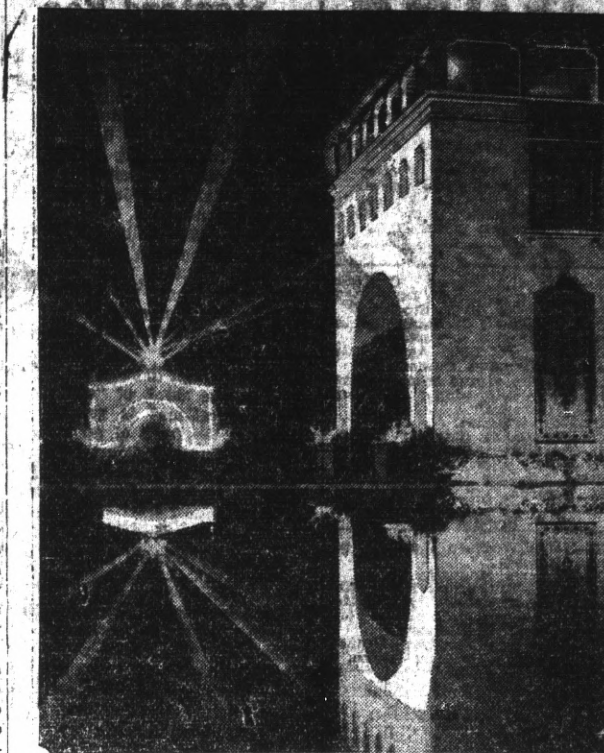

The Arctic blasts began to dig into the Plains States shortly after midnight Wednesday. One Atchison Kan., farmer, Steven Hughes, 74 was found frozen to death this morning.

Senate Told Of Election Result

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—UP—The "other Senator from Louisiana" today told a half-filled Senate chamber that the people who lived down in the bayous had re-endorsed the political machine that Huey Long built by giving its candidates big majorities in yesterday's primary.

Senator John H. Overton was joined in paying tribute to his slain chief by the Nation's only woman Senator, Mrs. Hattie Caraway, of Arkansas and by Senator Elmer Thomas, D. of Oklahoma.

EXPO OUTSHINES AURORA

More than four million watts are used hourly in lighting the buildings and grounds of the 1936 California Pacific International Exposition, which reopens at San Diego Feb. 12. Photo shows a typical scene in the Plaza del Pacifico, with the Spreckels outdoor organ in the background.

CONGRESS TO TAKE ACTION ON NEW AAA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—UP—The New Deal's substitute for the unconstitutional AAA, a bill empowering the Secretary of Agriculture to pay farmers, who co-operate voluntarily in a program of soil conservation, was introduced in Congress today by Senator John B. Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, and Representative Marvin Jones, Democrat, Texas.

Its life was fixed at two years, and while no appropriation was included, Bankhead immediately sought funds to put the operation of the bill into effect.

Bankhead said the bill was introduced to replace the AAA, which he said was unconstitutional.

EXACTNESS SOOKY

Leaders hoped to have it enacted by February 15, the deadline set by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace if it is to apply to this year's crops.

Wallace said at his press conference today that he believed the new plan constitutional, and predicted it "might even work out better than the AAA."

One feature of the new bill, added, was based on an increase of land planted to legumes as advocated by former President Hoover and therefore "would help to be constitutional."

DOUBTS EXPRESSED

But Senator George W. Norris, Republican, Nebraska, thought the bill was unconstitutional in the light of the Supreme Court AAA decision. He emphasized, however, he personally thought it valid, and is "willing to pass it and try it out."

Another to doubt its constitutionality was Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican, Oregon, who is sponsoring a farm plan of his own.

Through the new bill, which would amend the soil conservation act of 1935, the Administration hopes to attain the basic objective of the AAA, which was to control production so as to raise farm prices and increase agricultural income and purchasing power.

Inspector F. A. Leber of the Highway Patrol wants to see every tourist in the western end of the county who has not yet paid auto license fees and secured 1936 plates. His office is at the El Monte city hall.

No, it is not a "snatch." It is simply an invitation to transact a very vital and necessary piece of business before the 30th of the month, also.

Motorists will be faced with a painful necessity of paying 100 per cent delinquent penalties, and the bill will be sent.

This is the first year the State legislature has fixed a specific date for assessing penalties. This law provides for no period of grace or extension of time as enjoyed by the unscrupulous motorist in years ago.

New Revenues Are Sought By Stanford Board

SAN JOSE, Jan. 22.—UP—Seeking to increase the revenues of Leland Stanford University, trustees of the Palo Alto institution today filed a petition in the Santa Clara Superior Court asking permission to invest trust funds established by the late Leland and Jane Stanford in corporate stocks.

Superior Judge William F. James will hear the petition February 5.

In their petition, the trustees said it is no longer possible to obtain adequate interest from real estate loans or investments in bonds and securities.

If their request to be permitted to invest in the stock of "well-managed corporations" is granted it will be in the form of an amendment to a Superior Court order of 1907 which gave the trustees authority to invest in San Francisco real estate.

BOATS REACH PORT

TAMPICO, Mexico, Jan. 22.—Two fishing boats feared lost in a storm with 20 men aboard reached port safely today. The crews said they had put into a harbor south of here during the storm and thus escaped the fate of 10 men on another boat which foundered Sunday.

At the close of each year, Lubin sent out letters of appreciation to the reporting firms. In return he received hundreds of approving replies assuring him of continued collaboration.

They came 1935—and the big change.

Soon after the Supreme Court's demolition of the NRA, there was a decline in the number of reporting companies. By summer, the decrease totaled 1,000 a month. By October, the drop had reached such proportions that it was menacing the elaborate fact-gathering system Lubin had developed.

Castling about for an idea to re-enlist the co-operation of business men, Lubin hit on the plan of sending out a courteous acknowledgment of their continuance. To save money he printed a small card, instead of writing individual letters. The cards went out and Lubin anxiously sat back to await the response.

He got it—without delay.

The returning mails brought scorching letters from irate businessmen demanding what he meant by "wasting the taxpayers' money." They refused to have anything further to do with his surveys.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The extent to which business men suddenly have turned against the New Deal is vividly revealed by a recent experience of Dr. Isidor Lubin, head of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

In 1933 and 1934 he initiated several surveys which produced important trade and industrial data never before compiled. Although in no way compelled to do so, business men cooperated practically 100 percent.

At the close of each year, Lubin sent out letters of appreciation to the reporting firms. In return he received hundreds of approving replies assuring him of continued collaboration.

NEW G-MEN
 Mild-mannered desk men in the "Department of Agriculture" have taken on the job of bouncing some of the toughest racketeers in the country—those in the poultry business. The job is more nearly one for G-men.

When Congress gave them the job of regulating the poultry markets of the big cities, it sounded simple. The plan was to issue licenses to all commission men, dealers, truckers, and feed merchants in the regulated cities.

Licenses were to be withheld from any who could not show sound ledgers, or had served prison terms within the past two years. Trouble developed when a large number of operators were discovered operating in New York's famous Washington Street Market. Other poultrymen had "manned to go in and out of bankruptcy very successfully."

The Department offered to hold hearings in questionable cases. But rather than subject themselves to scrutiny, some operators prefer to default on the license, and secretly shift their business to some other firm.

Cleaning up the New York poultry racket is a big job in itself, but Wallace's P-Men have also tackled Jersey City, Newark, and Philadelphia. Next will be Chicago, with others to follow—probably Cleveland, Cincinnati, and Buffalo.

 The Securities and Exchange Commission will soon crack down on under cover utility lobbyists.

Under Section 12 of the Holding Company Act, which gives it wide powers to regulate lobbying, the SEC has drafted a set of rules which will put a big crimp in the operations of the gum-shoe boys.

The new rules will require utility lobbyists—for the first time in the history of Washington—to come out into the open. Not only will they be required to register, but also to reveal whom they are working for, state their salaries, expense funds and other pertinent information.

And this is not all. Under the SEC's regulations, high-paid utility executives who troop down on Washington for personal lobbying also will have to give a detailed accounting of their activities and expenditures.

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The spring season of popular opera at the Metropolitan is one step nearer to reality with the appointment of Edward Johnson and Lucerna Bori to head the special board. Top price will be $2.50 or $3... The gossipers have been trying to marry Sidney Kingsley off to Doris Dudley, but they're having a tough time. Playwright Sidney is leaving for China next month, and actress Doris is scheduled for new Theater Guild play. May be they have a rendezvous in the middle of the Pacific... Engineers have been tapping away industriously at the marble blocks that constitute the front of City Hall. A great new park development is planned for the city's official headquarters, and it is possible that a century-old landmark may be lost.

Enoch Light's singing trio, the Light Brigade, have found a new field for their activities. When taken on the job of bouncing some of the toughest racketeers in the country—those in the poultry business. The job is more nearly one for G-men.

ROMANCE AND ADVENTURE IN FILM AT FOX

Vivid pictures of life on the bounding main, the whine of a man's cat on a seaman's back, the crackle of belloyed sails, paradise in the South Seas, hardships, the stern arm of the law of the sea—above all romance and adventure.

Such is "Mutiny On The Bounty" picturing it all before packed houses of film fans at the Fox theater now.

It has been reproduced from the book by James Norman Hall and Charles Nordhoff.

Charles Laughton is the severe, brutal, terribly exciting Captain Bligh, whose harshness and inhuman handling of his crew started the mutiny. Clark Gable brings us Fletcher Christian, the mate who led the mutineers. It is the finest role that Gable has ever brought to the screen. Franchot Tone is Byam, the young midshipman on his first cruise who becomes embroiled in the strange mutiny.

Two of the most beautiful girls to grace the screen help supply romance with Gable and Tone. They are the native Tahitian girls Maria, playing the part of Movita, and Mammo, playing Maimiti opposite Clark Gable.

Other members of the cast are Herbert Mundin, Eddie Quillan, Dudley Diggs, Henry Stephenson and Donald Crisp.

Who undertakes to teach him boxing.

Haley thereupon is made an "F-man," his tormentors explaining that he can't be a full-fledged agent until he serves his apprenticeship.

Adrienne Marden, a screen newcomer, gets a chance to play opposite Haley while red-haired Grace Bradley plays a "gun moll," pumping in a little burlesque of her own. It undoubtedly will be the last G-man flicker for quite a while.

Hollywood Film Shop
 HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22.—UP—It takes the jesters to draw the curtain on a movie epic.

The Dumas epidemic of a few years ago, for instance, was closed by "The Three-Must-Get-Thiers," while "Two Wagnons, Both Covered," definitely ended the parade of pioneer epics that came trailing in the wake of James Cruze's "Covered Wagon."

But, despite all this talk about "G-men pictures to end all G-men pictures," there has, as yet been no burlesque to laugh the cycle temporarily off the screen.

The first to appear in response to this crisis is "F Man," which has Jack Haley as a romantically inclined soda-jerker from a Nevada town, whose ambition is to catch public enemies for the Department of Justice.

The film comes from Paramount and practically all the G-men pictures, including that studio's "Men Without Names," came in for a ribbing.

The Warner "G-Men," which had James Cagney in it, can be clearly discerned in a gymnasium scene where Agent William Fraxley and a squad of husky trainers are giving "Candidate Haley" the test.

Stripping the young man to his shirt, shorts, shoes and socks, they put him through a rigorous hazing routine. But Haley stomps them by coming through with flying colors, accidentally knocking out a trainer.

People used to think that eggplant contained a poison which could be removed by soaking slices of this vegetable in salt water. This is entirely unnecessary, however, as the eggplant is distinctly non-poisonous. Many people have been prejudiced against this vegetable by believing it to be indigestible, but the trouble is that they have based their experience with it by eating the eggplant in the fancy costume of a fried egg.

Eggplant may be broiled, boiled and baked, but should never be fried in grease after first being dipped in egg. This produces an indigestible food. The plain eggplant is much more delicious and digestible. If you will try some of the simple eggplant recipes I am sure you will enjoy the delicate flavor which is spoiled with the egg and grease.

Eggplant has no relation to the food value of an egg, but takes its name solely from the shape. It contains a good deal of fibrous cellulose which is good for the infirm and is also rich in potassium and alkaline elements. Here are some ways of preparing eggplant for variety in the menu.

Broiled eggplant: Cut in thin slices and place under a broiler, turning and basting delicately browned.

Baked eggplant: Cut the eggplant in half and bake in the oven. When tender, scoop the pulp out of the shells and mash with some butter. Place back in the shells and cover with a slice of tomato. Bake until the tomato is cooked.

Boiled eggplant: First pare and dice the eggplant and cook it in barely enough water to cover. When tender, serve and season with butter and cream.

Eggplant and corn: Grind one eggplant and three turnips in a meat grinder. Mix with one can of corn and place in a baking pan. Cover with two tablespoonsful of butter and bake 25 minutes.

Eggplant patties: Cut an eggplant into small pieces and mix with equal parts of ground round steak from which all fat and gristle have been removed. Run the mixture through the food chopper and add a small amount of finely chopped tomato. Mold into patties and bake in a hot oven till brown.

Eggplant stew: Two small eggplant diced, four potatoes, one parrot, and one turnip diced, three stalks of celery. Add two tablespoonsful of butter and place in a stewpan with just enough water to cover. Boil without lid over slow fire for 25 minutes, stirring frequently.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Bean Sprouts)
 Question: Mrs. W. D. writes: "I would like to know if you consider the bean sprouts for sale in the vegetable market as good for food. I like them, but occasionally they produce flatulence. Would it be better to avoid them entirely?"
 Answer: Bean sprouts are a wholesome vegetable. If you find they cause flatulence, it is quite likely that you have been adding onions or garlic to them. As a general rule, bean sprouts do not have a tendency to cause gas to form, when not combined with a member of the onion family.

(Nervous Irritability)
 Question: Marilyn L. wants to know: "What are some of the physical causes of irritable nerves?"
 Answer: Briefly stated, the causes are as follows: Over-secretion by the thyroid gland; sluggish intestinal elimination; digestive disturbances resulting from the use of an incorrect diet; and the presence of a high-powered sympathetic nervous system which reacts in an exaggerated manner to stimulation. Nervous irritability may also result from such physical causes as congestion in the pelvic organs; for example, congestion in the prostate gland in men is capable of bringing on the symptom. Or, nervous irritability may result from strain or hemorrhoids. The physical causes are undoubtedly important and these causes must be removed before the patient expects a complete cure; however, it must be remembered that equally important are the mental causes. Destructive habits of thinking, or wrong irritable. When the patient is troubled by nervous irritability, it is always a good plan to try a regimen of physical house-cleaning, using the fast, enemas, sponge baths, deep breathing, etc. The fast should be followed by a simplified diet, and an out-door exercising program should be started. These measures will often bring improvement.

W. O. M. LODGE INVITED TO BIG CONFERENCE

With Theresa Larsen, senior regent, presiding, members of the Women of the Moose met last night at the W. O. W. hall for initiation of candidates.

Letters were received from Mooseheart, complimenting the local chapter for its work and from the "pilgrim governor" inviting the lodge to send a representative to the mid-Winter conference in February, at which time Mrs. James J. Davis and her four daughters will be in charge. Homemaking will be the theme of the meeting and chapters will report on progress of their "Buy American" drive, adopted at the Boston conference last Summer.

An article was read during the meeting on the financing of an efficient laboratory on child research.

Announcement was made of the district meeting to be held at Santa Rosa on Sunday. Many local members will attend.

Whist was played at conclusion of the meeting and prizes were won by Theresa Larsen, Edna Mason, Nellie LaLonde and Mrs. LaLonde. Refreshments were served by the committee.

At the next meeting, February 12, the Richmond Lodge of Moose will entertain the chapter.

MOOSE LODGE WILL VISIT AT MARTINEZ

An enthusiastic meeting of the Richmond Lodge of Moose was held last evening at W. O. W. hall under the direction of F. L. Gardella, dictator.

The members of the lodge will pay a fraternal visit to Martinez lodge next Tuesday evening. At that time the up-county organization will observe its 23rd anniversary.

Meetings will be held every Wednesday night by the local lodge, it was announced.

Reports were heard on the recent election and installation of the Moose Legion held in Oakland. At that time Ed Brennan, of Richmond was installed as South Moose and Gardella was installed as Argus.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES YORSTON have returned from a three months' tour of the United States.

Taxing Agencies In California

The above illustration, prepared by the California State Chamber of Commerce, shows that there are 5,042 separate units of government in California clothed with the power to tax and levy assessments.

There are 5,042 separate units of government in California clothed with power to tax and levy assessments, according to the California State Chamber of Commerce which issued a report accompanied by a map of the State showing the location of these units.

In addition, the report stated, the Federal and State governments levy and collect many varieties of taxes over and above those assessed by the separate units. The report is part of a series issued by the State Chamber to provide the people of the State with factual information concerning its financial status.

The report, which details the number of taxing and assessing units in each county of the State, points out that inability to watch so many agencies is one of the main causes of increasing costs in the operation of local and State government.

Girl Reveals Sordid Details In Murder Case

MINNEOLA, N. Y., Jan. 22.—UP.—A 16-year old girl with curls down her back told at the "egg-nogg" murder trial today the story of how she and her mother both became the mistresses of Everett C. Applegate, charged with killing his wife with poison.

She is Ruth Creighton, and she wept a bit as attorneys drew from her the shabby story of how the lives of the Applegates and Creightons families became entangled after they moved into the same house. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Creighton, is jointly accused with Applegate of putting arsenic into egg-noggs given to Mrs. Adah Applegate while she lay ill.

CHAPTER XXXVI

KURT, wrenching himself free, stood up unsteadily. At the entrance to the tent were Sonia and Grey, with revolvers in their hands, and Ahmed, with a shotgun. Behind them, crowded Christine, Lynn, Tobermann, Larker and Coltani.

"I have the pleasure," Kurt said quietly, looking at Sonia, "to present to you our murderer, Mrs. Larker."

"He bowed ironically at Ann, who lay gasping for breath on the cot, a knife still in her hand. "And may I also introduce the chief of the dope-smuggling gang, Mr. Bruce Dalsen."

Dalsen disheveled, picked himself up from the ground, where he had fallen in the struggle with Kurt.

"So you win, eh, Hastings?" he said grimly.

"Not I—the law," said Kurt. "I'm turning you over to two of Uncle Sam's agents—Grey, Masters and Sonia Andrews—who will turn you over to the proper authorities here in Egypt."

Every one stared at Grey and Sonia in astonishment. As a reaction from Grey, Ahmed took possession of Ann's knife.

JOHN LARKER stepped forward and stood next to his wife. "Arrest me too," he said thickly. "I knew."

"I am afraid," said Kurt ironically, "that you are all going to be arrested."

He looked around at Tobermann, Coltani and Lynn. Under Grey's instructions, Ahmed was wildly searching them and Dalsen for weapons.

Kurt turned back to Larker. "And so it was I who knew, that you tried to warn me—to frighten me out of Egypt?"

"She didn't know what she was doing," Larker cried. "She was mad with greed. I couldn't stop her!"

Ann sat up on the cot. Her eyes were bright.

"I didn't want to murder you, Kurt," she said suddenly. "But I could see in your eyes that you knew. How did you know?"

"I didn't know," Kurt said. "Until the night you and LeMartin tried to do away with me at Sonia's. What I saw, my first hit a smooth face—a woman's face."

"But there were other women," Ann pointed out.

"Yes, but you were the only one strong enough to fight like a man."

KURT lighted a cigarette, and sat down.

"If he and Menelas hadn't lost their nerve," Ann muttered, "they would be alive today. Menelas was an awful bungler. He should have finished you off that first night in Alexandria."

Kurt grinned. "The next slip you made was in not making Coltani's disappearance seem intentional on his part."

"We didn't have time," Ann grunted. "Tobermann was prowling about that night."

"Yes," Kurt said. "I guessed something like that, but you were sure too cautious about his disappearance that morning I was at your house. By the way I suppose you hired the thugs who tried to get me in Naples?"

Ann nodded silently.

"WHAT proof did you have against me?" Dalsen asked suddenly.

"None," Kurt admitted. "I did not have any real proof against either of you. Sooner or later I'd have got proof, but I thought I'd first try to frighten you into giving yourselves away, and so save myself a lot of trouble."

"I had nothing to do with Ann," Dalsen said.

"No, but when you finally guessed that she and LeMartin were the ones plotting against the gang and causing all the mysterious deaths, you decided to use them for your own ends for I was getting dangerous for you, too. You knew that they wanted me out of the way as much as you did, so you let drop casually to LeMartin that I would be hiding at Sonia's that night."

"How could you know that?"

"Because no one but you knew that I would be there."

There was a moment's silence. Then Kurt turned to Tobermann.

"By the way, where were you when Ann came in to stab me just now?"

"I had gone to talk with Grey," Tobermann replied. "When we heard you yell, we came running."

"And a good thing, too," Kurt muttered.

GREY now took charge. It was arranged that he, Kurt and Ahmed, two at a time, would take turns, through the rest of the night, in standing armed guard over the prisoners. Grey advised Christine to go back to bed

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Twitching of a Child May Not Always Be Due To Pin Worms

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.
PHYSICIANS and patients have a very bad habit of attributing all the symptoms of a patient to some evident condition, and frequently neglect to look for deeper and less obvious, but possible causes. A case in point presents itself in a letter of inquiry from Mrs. A. C. T. Her son, 11 years of age, has been quite restless, grinds his teeth at night and is very nervous during the day. He insists he feels good. She also states he shrugs his shoulders, his arms will twitch, head jerk, mouth draw up, and his eyes blink even when he is sitting reading.

This has been going on at intervals for several years. Here comes the rub. About a year ago she gave him some Pin Worms. After taking it for some time he passed a number of pin worms, and his restlessness at night and grunting his teeth were better for awhile, but soon returned.

Any grandmother will tell you that a child who is restless and grinds his teeth has worms. I must admit these symptoms occur very frequently with intestinal worms. Surely any child will be restless at night when a lot of little pin worms crawl around in the skin. A restless child may give his teeth and when he is nervous he will pick his nose.

The Twitching Tendency
So we have this trend of symptoms with worms. Now, we also get the statement that his head jerks, his shoulders draw up, face twitches at various times, totally unaccountably while he is reading and his mind is thoroughly occupied with other things.

These symptoms suggest the presence of "St. Vitus' Dance," or "Chorea." This sometimes comes on during severe irritation from intestinal worms, but it is more likely to be due to some other infection, such as diseased tonsils, bad teeth, or sinus trouble.

St. Vitus' Dance is one of the various manifestations of a rheumatic infection and is sometimes the source of severe attention to the inner lining of the heart and may be followed by inflammation of the joints. In this case it is important we do not take for granted that this boy's chorea is due to the irritation of worms. Every effort must be made to prove he is not also suffering from an infection that is the cause of much harm.

Now, I want to state that if all the boy's trouble is due to the pin worms, I am very much interested by the same question. The only thing she can do is to take him to her physician, have him investigated and determine that there is, or is not, some other cause for his trouble.

Should Look Further
It is quite easy to blame his condition on the presence of worms, but it is not wise to stop there. The next question is how to get rid of the parasites permanently. Well, that is rather a difficult question.

Many herbs and drugs will cause the death and passage of the live active worms with which he comes in contact, but the eggs may remain or some live animals be tucked away in some corner, ready to go to work as soon as the medicine disappears.

Re-infection is quite common, as a child is not always careful with his hands. It is necessary to keep after them. I usually give the chosen drug and then follow in ten days with another treatment. In the mean time, inject once a day a cupful or two of warm water to which five to ten drops of turpentine has been added. Some times use tincture of iron. Two tablespoonfuls to a pint of water as an injection.

Eternal vigilance is necessary. For chorea due to infection the salicylates and various rheumatic remedies are required. My point is we must be sure we know the cause of all the symptoms and not assume that the presence of worms explains everything, and neglect some other possible source of trouble.

Dr. Chrisman, offers readers the privilege of asking questions to him care of this column. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on this page.

Short Cuts

If a sewing machine is used for a few hours a day or on several days during the week, it requires at least an oiling a week. Lint and threads should always be removed beforehand.

Drippings should always be clarified and strained before use for frying.

Wilted string beans should be soaked in cold water for an hour or two to revive them before cooking.

Profiles For Today

The Music Goes 'Round and Around

By TALBOT LAKE

THE whole country—and especially New York City—has slowly been going crazy because of a song. "The Music Goes 'Round and Around." It has had an even greater effect than that other remarkable Tin Pan Alley offering of some years ago, "Yes, We Have No Bananas," and may be destined for a career like the perennial Italian jingle, "Funiculi, Funicula."

The trick about the song seems to be that no one except professional singers is able to remember more than a few measures of the music, yet all persist in whistling the first part. It may be this puzzling element is what intrigues the public. There is a story that one man actually went out of his head trying to memorize "The Music Goes 'Round," but, of course, we can't vouch for this.

The way the song was born was just as crazy as the piece itself. Mike Riley, an Irish fellow, part-time in an attempt to own a jazz orchestra and keep it going financially, had been having very hard luck. They were eating, but that was about all. Not long ago at a New York night club Mike was playing on an old horn he bought for fun. A girl asked if it was difficult to play the horn.

Mike showed her the horn and said, "No, the music goes in here 'round and around, and comes out there." Farley heard the talk and decided there might be a song in the idea.

No one was ever more correct than Farley, for the song caught on in a flash. Radio singers could not get enough of it, and in night clubs encore after encore almost did away with other music. Thirteen thousand copies of the song were sold in New York in one day, and in ten weeks more than 100,000 copies had been snatched up by the eager public.

The two surprised authors took the trouble to have it copyrighted for a dollar, and so they will receive the financial benefit they deserve—or don't you think they deserve any? Now they have written another hit song, "I'm Gonna Clap Hands," which may also get into the money.

However, "The Music Goes 'Round and Around" has earned a place as one of the most amazing "catch" tunes in history, and that would seem to be fame enough for two young fellows who a couple of months ago were unknown.

Now Is Time To Freshen Beauty View

By JACQUELINE HUNT

THE young year brings new activities and a new lease on life. At no other season is it so much fun to try on new clothes, and along with the urge for shopping comes the desire for new beauty. If your smart new clothes are to look their best you must help them out with the proper care for your skin and the right selection of cosmetics.

Beauty care should be just as much a part of your daily program as eating and dressing. It is just as important to protect your hands and other exposed parts of the body from the frosty mid-winter winds as it is to protect your face with the proper make-up. The humid atmosphere of summer and early fall stimulated the oil glands in your body to function normally, but now the skin on your face and hands feels dry and drawn, because the moisture in the air has disappeared.

The hands require the same three treatments as the face: cleansing, nourishing and protection. The simplest means of protecting the hands is to apply a good hand lotion before going out. Lotion is a splendid protective agent, but it is not always sufficient to supply the needed oils to hands exposed to water and sudden changes of temperature.

Keep a good oily hand cream or a softening lotion near the wash basin and apply it every time you take your hands out of water. Unless you make a practice of wearing gloves when you are doing your household tasks, the regular use of a rich cream or lotion is necessary to keep your hands soft and lovely.

Dip your fingers into the cream or lotion and massage as much of it as possible, leaving the surplus on your hands for two or three minutes, wipe off the excess with a soft towel and forget all about your hands until you are ready to dress for the afternoon or for going out, then wash with a mild soap and warm water, rinse well and apply a greaseless finishing cream especially for the hands.

A warm olive oil treatment at night is advisable if your hands tend to be thin-skinned and sensitive, or if the nails split or peel. Soak the hands in the warm oil for ten minutes, massaging it gently into the skin, avoiding the cuticles and nails and under them, shaping the cuticle as you do so. Without removing the excess oil from the hands, slip them into loose, cotton gloves and leave them on overnight. In the morning you will find that the skin has absorbed most of the oil and is smooth and soft to the touch.

For the skin on your face, sensitive and becomes scaly and dry, with the first real stormy weather give yourself a vigorous cold cream or olive oil massage before evening tub. Or you might like to spend a few extra cents and get a good perfume oil made especially for use before the bath. Before going out during the day protect the skin on your legs with a hand lotion. If you wish to go step further, dust a little powder over the lotion before you slip on your hose.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I have very large, widely spaced eyes with slightly bulging lids. I have a rather dark skin and hair, but my eyes are blue and seem much more prominent than they should. Will eye make-up make them seem even more noticeable, or can I improve my appearance with eye shadow and mascara?"—Georgie.

Experiment with a dull blue-gray or smoky gray shade of eye shadow and apply it over the entire lid to make the bulge less noticeable. After you grow expert at applying the shadow you might experiment with two shades such as blue and bronze or green and gray to make your eyes seem darker and more interesting. If your lashes and eyebrows are light in color use brown or black mascara to give them emphasis. Keep your eyebrows neatly combed and trim them well in toward the center of your cheeks and blend the color very lightly into the region between the cheekbone and the lower lashes. This will lessen the apparent width between your eyes and make them less prominent.

You need not buy several expensive essences to be perturbed! There are delicately scented toilet waters, lotions for the hair, sachets for your bureau drawers or clothes hangers, bath salts, powder, bath oil and essences for the tub. You need but a small fraction of the perfume itself for the fingertips, the tips of the ears, or the curve of your neck. To insure economy of the precious essence, have a lightweight atomizer that distributes a fine spray of perfume.

In Brown Seal

Alaskan seal skin makes this coat worn by Astrid Allwyn, screen player, which boasts a number of new fashion points. Chief of these is the length and the color—Safari brown, a rich coppery tone. The back is cut with a full, loose line. A brown pill-box hat with military tassel, and brown patent leather pumps with cut bronze buckles are accessories.

Blouses Worn With Suits Bring Color Combinations

By IRENE VAIL

New York—A good chance for "playing" colors against pink comes with the blouse worn with a suit. The rustic weaves in linen or the important novelties are going to be seen most. Box-pleated fronts, sewed in to stay neat, monograms in steps down the box pleats, pockets of all shapes, lending quiet decoration, and tabs finishing off high necklines are some of the best-looking tricks. For the novelty color to wear with navy, black, or neutral suits, look into the citron that blouse designers picked out in Paris, or Chinese reds and blues, more dusty pinks (a lovely combination with the carnation). Prints should go nicely, too, picking up the suit color in a posy, horseshoe, polo mallet or alphabet layout. The prints are amusing.

Neckwear and gilet ideas which develop the forward-thrusting line under the chin, in crisp ruffled jabots of hand-embroidered sheer fabrics, or in taffeta types of scarfs, brilliantly plaided or dotted make one of the most appealing accessories.

Reports of what visitors to the southlands are wearing indicate that sartorially at least it is to be a gay season. Fabrics and colors both contribute to this lively air, with novelty cottons and linens.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "I know it is impolite to speak with food in one's mouth. Still, if a question is addressed to one is it not equally impolite to take his time to chew and swallow before answering?"—P. L.

ANSWER: A mouthful should never be so large that an eater cannot easily dispose of it and speak, if a question is addressed to him.

QUESTION: "Should both cream and sugar be served with coffee in demi-tasse cups, L. K."

ANSWER: Sugar may be served with demi-tasse, or after-dinner coffee, but cream should be omitted. Coffee in a demi-tasse is served at the end of a hearty meal and is intended to act as a "settler." That is why it is drunk black.

Keep Stems On
Do not remove the stems of pumpkins or squash and do not store them in the cold.

Fish Fillets A Good Hint For Lunches

By JUDITH WILSON

FILLETS of flounder, cod, or haddock are always fish bargains wherever they are available. Even the most expensive fish is inexpensive compared to the better cuts of meat. Canned fish which can be found on the shelves of every grocery or delicatessen makes a fine substitute in regions where fresh fish is scarce.

Here are two suggestions for Friday luncheon "fish specials"—one light and the other for a harder meal. Serve the lobster salad when you have a group of bridge friends in for luncheon or when you feel like surprising your family with something festive. It will take you only a few minutes to make it. Canned lobster or buy the lobster ready cooked at the market. You will find this a time-saver.

LUNCHEONS
Bouillon with Pretzels
Lobster Salad
Hot Clover Leaf Rolls
Pineapple Sponge
Tea
Chilled Tomato Juice
Poached Fillets of Haddock
on Fried Noodles
Whole Wheat Muffins
Salad of Assorted Greens
Lemon Artichokes
Coffee

Lobster Salad
Mix 2 cups of lobster meat with 1 hard cooked egg, finely chopped, 2 stalks of celery, chopped, and 1 large tomato cut into thin wedges. Season to taste with salt and pepper, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Mix thoroughly and serve on crisp white hearts of lettuce with any desired dressing. This makes 6 medium sized servings. Crab meat or tuna fish may be used.

Fillets with Noodles
Any kind of fish fillets can be used for the entrée in the second menu. Boil 15 pound noodles for 15 minutes, strain and drain thoroughly. Fry until light brown in butter. Poach the boneless fish fillets for 10 minutes in white cooking wine (or salted water to which the juice of 1/2 lemon has been added). The wine gives fish a finer flavor. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a saucepan, stir in 2 tablespoons flour and add enough of the liquid from which the fish was cooked to make a sauce. Heat the fish in this for 5 minutes. Arrange the noodles in a deep baking dish and arrange the fillets on top. Pour the sauce over all and bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes.

Salmon Pie
Salmon pie makes a delicious luncheon or supper dish. Make a sauce from 2 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper blended together. Add 2 cups of milk a little at a time and stir until smooth and thick. Butter a casserole and into this put 2 cups of flaked red salmon and 1/4 cups of cooked peas. Mix lightly together or arrange in 3 or 4 layers and pour the sauce over them. Top with fluffy mashed potatoes pressed through a pastry tube to give the pie an attractive appearance. Brown in a moderate oven.

Pineapple Sponge
A suitable dessert for a fish meal is often a problem to cooks who have had little experience in menu-making. The pineapple sponge in the first menu is an excellent choice. It is light and fluffy and tart enough in flavor to add interest to the meal. Dissolve 1 package of orange gelatin in 1 cup of hot water. Add 1/4 cup pineapple juice (from canned pineapple), 1 tablespoon lemon juice

MODERN WOMEN

Woman's New Freedom Is Leading Her to Appear Man Even in Dress

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

WOMAN'S part in world civilization has been no small one. The history of her development can hardly fail to be anything but an absorbing subject, which is the viewpoint which motivated the New York Society for Ethical Culture to institute its present course in the History of Civilization, with special emphasis on the part played by women. The idea is to evaluate with a new and objective viewpoint the historical contributions of women, in an attempt to guide the modern girl through the transitional period of modern society.

The course was originally suggested by Dr. Felix Adler, the founder of the Ethical Culture Society. A history of women, as the course was then planned, was finally changed to this new History of Civilization, "with special emphasis on the part played by women." It was found necessary to make the change because the interests of men and women from time immemorial had been too inter-related to attempt a history of each separately.

You and Your Child

Child Is Not Fooled by Uncared Praise

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

TWO mothers met. Each had a little boy about four years old with her. "Where are you coming from so early in the morning?" asked the first mother. "I'm having Norman inoculated."

With a proud glance in Norman's direction, she added, "He was a very good boy. He took it like a man. How did Bobby behave when he was inoculated?"

This time the first mother exchanged a pleased look with her boy. "Oh," she said, "my Bobby behaved beautifully. He didn't seem to mind it at all. Did you, Bobby?" The youngster lowered his eyes, a motion which might have been mistaken for shyness, but which more likely was a sign of confusion and embarrassment. The embarrassment would be for his mother rather than himself, for she was lying. Bobby clearly remembered how he nearly screamed his head off during each visit for the entire series of inoculations.

Some parents foolishly make a practice of giving undeserving children a boost before strangers. They probably have an idea that four and add enough of the liquid from which the fish was cooked to make a sauce. Heat the fish in this for 5 minutes. Arrange the noodles in a deep baking dish and arrange the fillets on top. Pour the sauce over all and bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes.

Wouldn't it have been better if Bobby's mother had changed the subject of inoculation? Or, finding that she could not avoid it, had tried to dismiss the matter with some such casual but truthful remark as, "Bobby didn't like it at all." Then it would have been easy to add, "We must be on our way; good-bye." Thus putting an end quickly to a discussion which she did not care to pursue before her child.

Long Machine Scores Victory

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 22.—UP—Louisiana has "vindicated" Huey Long by popular vote and scored a smashing triumph for dictatorial government. With half the votes from Tuesday's Democratic primary counted tonight, candidates of the Long political machine and heirs to his powers were leading their opponents by more than two to one.
Richard W. Leche, candidate for governor, had 157,421 votes against 65,955 for Congressman C. D. Deane, anti-Long candidate. Others on the Long ticket have similar majorities.

Happy Landing For Plane With Frozen Stabilizer

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 22.—UP—An hour of fearful uncertainty aboard an airplane on which the stabilizer "froze" ended happily tonight for eight persons when Pilot Lou Gravis brought his United Airline ship safely to earth at the airport here.
When Gravis arrived over the airport at 9:40 an hour late from Cleveland, he discovered the stabilizer didn't respond. He radioed officials on the ground who told him to stay aloft until arrival of a fire engine and ambulances.
While waiting he also flew to Floyd Bennett field, Brooklyn, to investigate possibility of landing there, but decided in favor of Newark and came back.
With the fire engine and ambulances at hand, Gravis directed the heaviest of his passengers to the rear of the plane to trim the ship and came down for a perfect landing.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILL— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go
If you feel sour and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of pills, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and happy and full of health.
For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a headache, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in eruptions. Your joints ache and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.
If you take these good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get rid of two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful natural bile salts which stimulate the liver when it comes to making the bile flow freely.
But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remember a medicine that's good for you is a medicine that's right for you. ©1935 C. M. Co.

FOLSOM DOPE PLOT AROUSES POLICE PROBE

FOLSOM PRISON, Jan. 22.—UP—A plot to smuggle morphine from San Francisco to Folsom prison was thwarted today when guards intercepted a shipment of rubber rain covers for the caps worn by prison guards.

For several years, the prison has bought its caps and covers from the outfitting firm of L. Ritznik & Son in San Francisco. The covers which arrived today, however, had not been ordered and were black instead of the brown color the prison adopted a year ago. A guard whose suspicions were aroused by the difference in color investigated and found a half-ounce of morphine.

Warden Court Smith said all workers in the commissary department would be questioned in an effort to determine who had sent the narcotic.

Reports from San Francisco were that three black cap covers were bought at the Ritznik store by a woman last week. A day or two later, a man came in and asked for one of the firm's labels which he said he wanted to use as a return address on a package he was mailing. He displayed a sales slip indicating a purchase at the store.

All employees of the store were busy at the time and the man was given the label without question. Prison authorities believe the man and woman were in the morphine plot and that some ex-convict was involved in an effort to supply dope to a one-time fellow prisoner.

Mother Freed From Sonoma In Sterilizing Row

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—Mrs. Mary Arevelo, 24, mother of four children, today was freed from the Sonoma State home for the feeble minded from which she fled when threatened with sterilization. At the habeas corpus hearing conducted before Judge George J. Steger today, Dr. F. O. Butler, superintendent of the home, testified he would have released Mrs. Arevelo if she had consented to a sterilization operation because he believed she could have gotten along "outside with guidance."

Mrs. Mary Scally, State psychologist, said she gave Mrs. Arevelo a mental test that showed her to be 10 years old, mentally. Mrs. Scally gave a similar test to Ann Cooper Hewitt, 21 year old housewife, who has filed a $500,000 damage suit against Mrs. Scally, two physicians, and her own mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt McCarter, as an aftermath of a sterilization operation performed upon her.

Pieces of the wreckage were scattered over an area of 200 yards in the mud-and-water bog.

FOURTH VESSEL IS TIED UP IN LABOR DISPUTE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—A fourth Luckenbach freighter was tied up in San Francisco harbor today by a strike of the Clerks and Checkers Union against ships of the line.

A placard line was extended to the Walter Luckenbach as soon as it docked to prevent loading and unloading of the freighter.

Officials of the Clerks' Union said the strike would be extended to the McCormick line as soon as the Luckenbach dispute is settled. The strikers are seeking higher pay for both straight and overtime work.

Meanwhile, labor troubles which have kept the Swayne & Hoyt freighter Point Clear and the American-Hawaiian's California tied up, were adjusted. The crew of the Point Clear agreed to submit their demands for extra pay to the Seamen's Labor Relations Board. The International Seamen's Union supplied the California with a new crew, employers said, after the former crew had walked off in a demand for replacement of five Eastern seamen with Western men.

IN CONFERENCE—Ferryboat operators and their employers were in conference on the workers' demand for dismissal wages when the men are laid off at the time the new bay bridges are opened.

The long wage dispute of steam schooner crews was virtually unchanged, with 60 vessels tied up in various Pacific Coast ports. Also unchanged was the situation with regard to the strike of machinists in bay region marine repair shops.

Roosevelt Expected To Veto Bonus Act

(Continued from page 1) Byrnes banged his gavel to announce: "On this motion the vote is 316 to 59 and the motion is carried."

SIGNS BILL—Byrnes quickly affixed his signature to the bill and it was rushed to the other side of the capitol where Vice President John N. Garner signed it. Shortly before 4 P. M., Chairman Claude V. Parsons, Democrat, Illinois, of the committee on enrolled bills, entered the White House executive offices and handed the continued bill to Clarence Hess, a member of Mr. Roosevelt's staff. VETO IS URGED—Also reaching the President's desk was a telegram from Henry H. Curran, director of the National Economy League, urging Mr. Roosevelt to veto the bonus measure. "Give them the same good veto measure that you gave them last year," Curran messaged.

Even though the bill is enacted over Mr. Roosevelt's opposition, veterans will not be able to get all or any part of their bonus until mid-summer. The measure authorizes the issuance of $1,800,000,000 in non-negotiable bonds which are to be exchanged for the adjusted service certificates held by ex-service men.

Young Captain Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, was behind today's developments. His revelation of Britain's arrangements for mutual armed aid if the tense Mediterranean situation explodes, came just after the committee of 15 had moved toward an oil embargo, for which Britain is the chief advocate.

Pair Confident Of Perpetual Motion Machine

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—Faith in the ability of H. L. Worthington, inventor, to devise a perpetual motion motor that would operate without an outside source of power, was expressed today by two witnesses called to testify at the State Corporation Commission hearing on stock transactions of Worthington's Magnetic Motor Company.

Mrs. C. R. Spaulding, San Francisco, owner of 1,500 shares of stock in the Nevada corporation, first witness called today, said she had faith in Worthington's ability to invent the perpetual motion engine. Kenneth Keegan, Oakland, sales manager for an iron works and owner of 4,000 shares in the Worthington company, said he shared Mrs. Spaulding's belief.

The hearing was instituted on complaint of the San Francisco Better Business Bureau that the corporation, refused a permit to sell stock in California, incorporated in Nevada and is now selling stock in California.

"The situation is well in hand," Johnston tersely reported.

NO VIOLENCE

Wild rumors still circulated, however, concerning exact nature of the outbreak. The warden insisted that no violence had taken place in quelling the "work-strike." He declined to give the names of any of the criminals involved in the uprising.

Today the San Francisco News in a copyrighted story quoted "a reliable source" as saying that Capone was the most violently hated man on Alcatraz.

Once prisoners threatened to lynch him after he reportedly "informed" on a strike planned against silence rules—playing the "squealer," a strange role for the man who once directed activities of hundreds of hoodlums and racketeers according to government evidence.

Here's one cigarette that writes its own advertising..

It's like this—

You see I'm reading a Chesterfield advertisement and I'm smoking a Chesterfield cigarette, and all of you are smoking Chesterfields.

Now listen—Chesterfields are mild (not strong, not harsh). That's true isn't it?

Then you read "and yet they satisfy, please your taste, give you what you want in a cigarette." That says it, doesn't it?

Wait a minute—

It says now that Chesterfields have plenty of aroma and flavor. One of you go out of the room and come back. That will tell you how pleasing the aroma is.
